

BIOGRAFIA

LUÍS JORGE JACINTO, MD

PM&R senior consultant, working at Centro de Medicina de Reabilitação de Alcoitão -Portugal. Clinical lead of the Gait and Movement Laboratory as well as of the Botulinum Toxin Clinic. Director of an adult rehabilitation service, since 2009.

Involved in research, lecturing and peer training, nationally and internationally, in topics such as: stroke, TBI, neurorehabilitation, spasticity, botulinum toxin, movement and gait analysis, goal-oriented teamwork, patient-centered goals, outcomes in neurorehabilitation. Collaborates in University-based under-graduate and post-graduate courses.

Investigator/co-investigator/expert scientific advisory experience in several international scientific/educational/peer mentoring projects and scientific studies/clinical trials.

Author/Co-author of scientific papers and posters published in reference journals and reference worldwide congresses/scientific meetings (more than 90).

Author/co-author of book chapters on spasticity management, as well as gait analysis in neurologic disorders and in lower limb amputees.

Associate editor/reviewer for the journals Frontiers in Neurology, JISPRM and Toxicon.

President of SIBRehab - Sociedad Iberica de Biomecánica en Rehabilitación.

Member the following Scientific Societies: SPMFR, ESPRM, WFNR, EFNR, INA, CANOSC.